CITY IN BRIEF.

"B. M." can get a full answer by addressing an employment agency.

A small fire occurred yesterday morning in the laundry opposite the Bates House, on Illinois street, which was put out with a backhoe, no general alarm being sent in.

A boy employed at Smith & Wood's cooper shop had his left thumb taken off in the machinery yesterday, the amputation extending to the joint just above the wrist.

A valuable traveling bag, containing a considerable amount of clothing and important papers, was stolen from Harry Raymond, of New York, in the Union Depot yesterday.

Several runaways occurred yesterday, one being the horse and buggy of a Mr. Merfield, on Illinois street. Another one was a horse and sleigh on West Washington street. Beyond the wrecking of the vehicles, no damage was done.

Wednesday evening the fine mule team belonging to Mr. Carey, the cooper, ran away. A search was kept up all night for them, but they were not found till yesterday morning, when they were discovered on the Belt Road, south of the city. One of the mules had been run over by a Belt Road car and killed. Mr. Carey purchased the team last summer at Connersville for $600. Spencer Cone, manager of Maude Granger's "Linwood" company, which appears at Dickson's next week, is in the city. Here is an entry on the Denison Hotel register:

J. K. Emmet, Albany, N. Y.
Mrs. J. K. Emmet, Albany, N. Y.
The following were elected Trustees at the annual meeting of the First Baptist Church Tuesday evening: W. C. Griffith, W. J. Pratt, M. A. Woolen, Abram Wagner, J. P. Barrie, M. A. Woolen, J. A. Closser, A. A. Barrie and Arthur Jordan.

Charles Shaw, formerly proprietor of the Turkish bath, fell last evening at the corner of Illinois street and the first alley north of West Washington street. His left knee was dislocated and badly fractured. He was taken to his home, 182 West Market street, in a hack. A gentleman in the northern part of the city was to have been married Wednesday evening, but in the afternoon he sent a note to the lady that he had been caught upon a jury and could not be present. This was very vexatious, but the matter was made all right last night, the jury having been dismissed.

George E. Baker, a Hoosier horse thief was detained at the Armory last night awaiting transportation to Terre Haute. Several weeks ago he robbed the stable of a Terre Haute capitalist of a valuable horse, which he ran off into Knox County, this State, and sold. He was traced there, thence to Cedar Bluffs, Iowa, where it was learned through a woman in Terre Haute, with whom Baker was corresponding, that the latter was living there. He was captured in that city by Detective Dwyer, and will be jailed at the Indiana metropolis to-day.—Chicago Herald.

AMUSEMENTS.

EMMET AT THE GRAND.

The Grand Opera House was again full to overflowing last night to witness the second performance of the ever popular "Fritz" Emmet in his new play, "The Strange Marriage of Fritz," and the enthusiasm amounted to almost an ovation. Mr. Emmet does the best acting of his life in this piece, and sings with all his old-time sweetness and dances with the same grace that has always been so admired. In his peculiar line he has no rival, and his performance has a wonderful charm and fascination for those who enjoy sweet singing, graceful dancing and pleasing manners on the stage. The new songs introduced are all beautiful and are given as only Emmet can give them. The supporting company is evenly balanced and capable. There will be a ladies' and children's matinee this afternoon at 2 o'clock and a final performance to-night at 8. Everybody should see "Fritz."

"ORPHEUS AND EURYDICE" COMING.
The sale of reserved seats for the engagement of Rice & Barton's Opera Bouffe Company of forty artists, at the Grand the first three nights of next week, opened yesterday morning at the theatre, and was very large. Over 300 seats being taken before the box office closed. The piece to be presented is an operatic burlesque, entitled "Orpheus and Eurydice," an adaptation of Offenbach's famous opera bouffe, "Orpheus and Eurydice," which had a run of over 400 nights in New York. It will be presented here with substantially the same company and scenery. Among the ladies of the company whose efforts are best appreciated are Misses Marie Yant, as "Eurydice," with French and Spanish songs and dances; Miss Ughart as "Venus," Miss Langdon as "Diana," Miss Allison as "Juno," Miss Daisy Murdoch as "Cupid," Miss Benister as "Public Opinion," Miss McNulty as "Mercury," Miss Louis De Lange as an excellent comedian, as "Jupiter," Harry Pepper the "Orpheus," and Harry Davidson, the "Pluto" of the play, also contribute materially to the success of the performance. The chorus is large and well-drilled, the costumes are new and gorgeous, and the spectacular and ensemble effects brilliant beyond description. There will be no advance in the prices.

NOTES.

Matinee at the Zoo to-day at 2 o'clock.

Only Emmet matinee to-day at the Grand. Prices, 25, 50, 75 cents and $1.

Remember Chang's "candy matinee" at the Museum to-day at 2 o'clock. Every child in attendance will be presented with a package of candy.

The last half of next week the attraction at the Grand Opera House will be the beautiful and accomplished emotional artist, Miss Maude Granger, in J. K. Tillotson's latest and best romantic military drama, "Linwood"—a play which set all New York a-fire last season. Miss Granger will have a support of a strong company, and the engagement will attract unusual attention.

"A Midnight Marriage," which comes to English's next Thursday has evoked much favorable comment for the careful manner in which it is placed on the stage. The costumes are said to be especially rich and characteristic. Mr. Redmond and Mrs. Barry have appeared before the Indianapolis public several times before with the Boston Grand Opera Company, but never to so good advantage as in this drama, which gives both an opportunity to give their dramatic powers full scope.

Seriously Burned.

Thursday night Mollie Rigdon, aged eleven years, living on Thomas street, was standing in front of the open grate warming, when in some manner her clothes caught fire. She ran screaming into the yard, when her mother immediately rolled her in the snow and subdued the flames. The poor child's underclothing was burned off and the greater portion of her dress. The flesh was so badly burned that the skin came off from below the knees to the abdomen. Dr. Featherston was called, and did what he could to relieve her. When questioned as to the accident, she told her mother she suffered too much to be able to tell how it happened, but would tell her all about it when she got well. It is thought she was standing too near the fire, and that a draft of air took the lower part of her clothing into the flames. She is lying in a very critical condition. The mother's hands were badly burned.

New Corporations.

The Indianapolis Times Company was incorporated yesterday. Capital stock, $30,000. The directors are W. R. Holloway, Oliver T. Morton and E. M. Holloway. The understanding is that the above named gentlemen have bought out the holders of stock in the old Times Company, and now hold a controlling interest.

The Indiana Southern Mining Company filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State yesterday. Capital stock, $100,000.
The Victor Adjustable Roller Skate Company, of Muncie, capital stock $9,000, has been incorporated.

MRS. HENSLEY'S DEATH

Said to be Surrounded by Suspicious Circumstances—The Doctor Absent.

Coroner Stratford is at present engaged in the investigation of a case which may result seriously to one or two persons. He was invited to look into the causes leading to the death of Mrs. Mary Hensley, of 190 East Market street, by the Health Board, the death return indicating that something was wrong. From it was learned that deceased had died at a late hour Monday night of congestion of the bowels. She was sick but three days, and yet the return stated that the disease was of five days' duration. The return was signed "Dr. Dearbaugh, 69 North Alabama street." A search for this man yesterday was fruitless. At his residence it was stated that he loafed there, but he never took a meal in the house.

The husband of the deceased is Charles Hensley, who has for something over a month been acting as a merchant policeman east of the Court-house. He came to this city from Lawrence a few weeks since, and about two weeks ago his marriage took place, Mrs. Hensley, then Mary Harper, following him here and insisting that he marry her. He has talked frequently to a number of his acquaintances, among them being Officers Spears and Slate, and Oscar Sparker, watchman at the O. I. Tank Line Company's building. To these he has frequently applied for information as to a physician who would procure an abortion. It seems also that the operation was performed upon Mrs. Hensley several days ago. On Monday she was taken sick, and died as above stated. She was immediately prepared for burial, and was interred Tuesday noon at a small cemetery three miles north of the city. It is remarked that several parties who had charge of the funeral were surprised at the appearance of the corpse, and one of these stated that a remarkable odor, which he never observed in any other case of death, came from the body. Yesterday Coroner Stratford made arrangements for a post-mortem examination, and sent to the cemetery for the body. To his surprise, the keeper of the vault refused to allow the body to be removed.

Early yesterday evening Patrolmen Henry and Spears were sent out by the Police Superintendent in search of Hensley, and they found him on his beat. They at once brought him to the Central station, where Coroner Stratford and Superintendent Hensley met him with questions until a late hour. It appears that there was enough in the statement which Hensley made to these officials to warrant his retention, and the Superintendent ordered the turnkey to lock him up as an accessory to commit a felony. Hensley declined to talk with the newspaper reporters, but in his statement to the Superintendent and Coroner he said that he had been keeping company with the deceased for about two years and had promised to marry her some time ago, but could not, owing to the bad condition of his finances. She informed him last September that she would kill herself if he did not marry her immediately. He induced her to agree not to do anything rash, and told her that he would marry her in a short time. Thus matters went on until the 21st of January, when he came to this city, and on the next day in wedlock, "Squire Pease" performing the ceremony. She took sick immediately after, and it was on Sunday last that she started out in search of a physician, whom she would not tell the name of, and he met this alleged medical man on the street, and took him up to his wife's room. She told him to leave the room while the "physician" examined her, which he did. Dearbaugh was in the room with the deceased about half an hour, and when he came out Hensley asked him what was the matter with his wife. "Oh, nothing," she has only strained her back," was the reply. The doctor then returned in the evening, which he failed to do, and since then Hensley says he has not seen him, nor does he know of his whereabouts. The deceased took sick at the dinner table on Monday and died in the evening.

When the turnkey was preparing to lock him up Hensley became very much agitated and nervous. The police will go out to the burying ground this morning and bring the body into the city for a post mortem.

The Rinks.

A merry time is in store for the little folks this afternoon at the Meridian Rink, it being the occasion of their second fancy dress carnival. The first carnival was a grand success in every particular, everything passing off in a pleasant and satisfactory manner to both participants and spectators. Parents need not hesitate to allow the miniature portion of their "cherished collections" to unite from their apron strings and enjoy themselves a little today, for day. Murray, the manager, will be on the floor and look after the bits of humanity as carefully as though he were running a kindergarten. Do not forget the calico party which takes place next Tuesday evening. A large number of our society people are preparing to take part.

The usual matinee at the Wigwam this afternoon, with first-class music, will be the attraction. The exhibition drill given last night at the College Avenue Rink by the Brigade was a creditable affair, although, through a misunderstanding, there were not as many young ladies in line as was expected. Next week Charles E. Beeson, the boy wonder, will appear each evening. He executes 150 movements on skates.

Probably Fatal Accident.

At a late hour Thursday night, Harvey Case, one of the drivers for the Oil Tank Line Company, while at work fell on a "skid," and was terribly hurt internally. A hemorrhage resulted, and he was taken to his residence, 370 South Delaware street, where he now lies in a critical condition, as he is suffering from peritonitis, hemorrhage and inflammation of the bladder. Mr. Case was formerly connected with the police force, and was regarded as one of the best officers in the city. A few weeks ago he met with a very painful accident, a barrel of oil falling on his foot and crushing it in a horrible manner. His physician regards him as being in a dangerous condition.

Clinical Lectures.

A series of clinical lectures, beginning this afternoon, will be given at the Insane Hospital by Dr. W. B. Fletcher, Superintendent, and Dr. Isaac C. Walker, Professor of Nervous Diseases in the Medical College of Indiana. The lectures will relate to the methods of treating the insane and to the diseases coming and existing during insanity. Physicians, students and all persons interested in these subjects, which are important to all citizens, are invited to attend. Persons desiring to attend will find street cars in waiting at the transfer car at 1 o'clock. The lectures will begin at 1 o'clock, and continue during the afternoon.

Notice of Dividend.
The Superior Court has directed me to pay a 5 percent dividend to the creditors of Fletcher & Sharpe.
Payment will be made at Fletcher & Sharpe's Bank, commencing Thursday morning, January 22. WILLIAM WALLACE, Receiver.
INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 23, 1885.

An alarm of fire was turned in from Major Taylor's on North Illinois street, about 2 o'clock p. m., and Dr. Alexander, being near, was called on, and extinguished the fire with the Harder "Star" Hand Grenade before the Fire Department arrived.
